P.R.O. - Adam Schepehird of Barughdon sued for the death of Joh Judd at B. by Marglia wife of John, on Sunday next after St Clement 48 Ed 3, after he had fled from town to town. A discord had arisen at B. which was begun by John: J. drew a knife: Adam fled to a certain Lidgate, which was shut: so Adam struck him with a knife in the hand, not on the head, whereupon J. died soon after. Jury recommend Adam to the kg's clemency, & he is left in charge of Joh de Wytherbiry at Oakham Castle, being afterwards pardoned.
