Draft

The first fruits (i.e. the official annual income) of the Vicarage of Oakham were estimated in the Eb### Regis (temp Henry viii) at £48-16-8 when of the tenth payable yearly amounted to £4-17-8. On 6 Feb 1566 (8 Eliz) Thomas Thickpenne appeared in person before the Barons of the Exchequer and laid a complaint regarding the iniquity of the royal tithe collectors who without considering the decreasing income of the benefice continued to exact the same amount as in days gone by : the payments made by certain merchants of the staple of Calais whether through poverty or that they now went across the sea less than when Calais belonged to England has fallen off : the Vicar also was now burdened with separate stipends for chaplains at Egleton, Langham and Brooke which cost him £17 a year : also offerings made at pilgrimages to the image of St Mary "ad fouteum" of St Michael the Archangel and of several others had altogether ceased - "rites and offerings idolatrous rather than to good worship belonging" - yet their disappearance had reduced the emoluments and profits of the Vicarage. In consequence of this application a Commission was issued by the Exchequer Court to Sir James Harrington. Kenelm Digby esq. John fflower esq., George Mackworth esq. Thomas Digby gent., Clement Smyth gent., who were to report within fifteen days; six, five, four or three were to form a quorum of whom Kenelm Digby was to be one; and they were empowered to examine witnesses on oath with a view of finding out the value of the Vicarage of Oakham : their commission was dated 6 Feb 1566 (8 Eliz) and their report was sent in to the Exchequer Court : the names of the witnesses whom they examined were John Robinson alias Barkeby : John Pilkington : William ffulshowe : Nicholas Jordane : John Winwicke : Bartholomew Clarke : William Pitts : Richard Seatoune : Thomas Mardlescome : Stephen ffowle : Robert Banes : and William Barnes: and on the testimony thus gained it was reported that the income of Oakham Vicarage was derived from:
